

■ Shaded pads are only available on the DropBot v3 connector.

Note that channel numbers may change between DropBot v1/2 and v3, but this remapping can be handled in software.

DropBot v3 chips must short OE to GND pad to enable high-voltage output.

For DropBot v3, FB pad should connect to the top-plate electrode for grounding/feedback.

Channels A-D are undefined (reserved for future use).

